SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On the 3rd of September in '38
33 pupils became classmates,
Into the assembly trooped one and all
To face Mr. Glesne, big and tall.

Then one day at the Senior's request
We agreed that we would change our dress.
The boys as girls with shortest skirts
With the boys began to flirt.
The girls, they came in boys old breeches
And some looked like they had been diggin' ditches.

In the afternoon we were put to test
And washed our feet in an awful mess,
But the day soon ended with a bang
At a party at night where the rooms just rang.

Our Sophomore year was another great step
And boy! were we full of pep.
To join the navy and see the world
Went Leo and Orion, mighty and bold.

And then we took another great pace
Which put us in our Junior place.
This year we went our great way,
With "Two Many Husbands" as our class play.

The Junior-Senior Banquet was a gayla affair
For which the Church parlors took on a naval air.

We're now all Seniors, some not with A's
But we do hear some very high praise.

And Lillian Smith, whose giggles we missed;
Is now a Mrs. instead of a Miss.
We know that all good things must come to an end,
"Good luck to all of you," is the wish that we send.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

SENIOR ONE-ACT PLAY

The one-act play, "Not Quite Such a Goose," was presented by the Senior class. Albert, Jerry Kresback, was always teasing his sister Silvia, played by Florence Knutson, about her sissified boy friend, played by Edgar Meister. Albert's mother was disgusted with him because he played with such an unruly boy, but he did not change until he met Hazel Henderson, played by Genevieve Barthelme. The part of Albert's mother was played by Shirley Nagel.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class of '42 chose as their class play, "The High School Mystery." This a play-within-a-play; a mystery comedy drama in three acts.

As the play opens, "The House of Terror," which is the play-within-the-play, is being rehearsed in the high school auditorium the night before the performance. The actors come in dressed for, and acting their parts in, "The House of Terror." Herbert Mason is played by John Butler, who in turn is played by Glenn Peterson. Throughout the rehearsal of "The House of Terror," he worries about his daughter, Lita; who, as Florence Crowder in "The High School Mystery" is played by Florence Knutson. Kathleen Karsburg plays the part of Kathleen Russel in "The High School Mystery," and she also plays the part of Jenny, the maid, who is afraid of spooks. Shirley Nagel plays the part of Shirley Lee in "The High School Mystery"; and Emma Mason, Herberts sister, in "The House of Terror."

As the play opens, Herbert Mason, his daughter Lita, Jenny, and Emma come to the country house they have rented. They have some trouble getting the lights to work and Jenny is frightened when she sees the ghost-like dust covers on the furniture. When the other members leave the room, a person known as Paul enters from behind a screen. Robert Barthelme plays this part and also the part of Bob Reed in "The High School Mystery." He and Emma talk a short time, and their conversation reveals them as plotters for Herbert's money. The play moves along until Lita suddenly faints. This brings on Miss Fielding, the drama coach, who is Natalie Erckenbrack, and Ardis Larson as Miss Jeffries, assistant drama coach. This is the start of the real mystery. Miss Fielding calls for Bill, the stage manager. This part is played by William Nelson. He comes from behind the scenes and gets a cross-examination from Miss Fielding as to the cause of Lita fainting. Miss Fielding calls everyone up from the dressing room and brings forth Bob Reed and Carl Sayles. Carleton Johnson takes this part. No explanation is found. This finishes the first act of "The House of Terror."

Before the rehearsal of the second act starts, Mrs. Reed, Bob's mother, comes in and causes trouble because Miss Fielding put Florence in the part her daughter was supposed to play. She tries to take Bob home but he doesn't go.

The rehearsal of the second act is interrupted by the appearance of Jack Howard, the author of "The House of Terror." Glenn Peterson plays this part. After he leaves, they resume their rehearsal until someone carries Florence away during a blackout caused by a fuse blowing out. They call the sheriff out to hunt for Florence and, while they are worrying over her, the sliding bookcase opens and the author falls out. Bill looks him over and says he is dead.

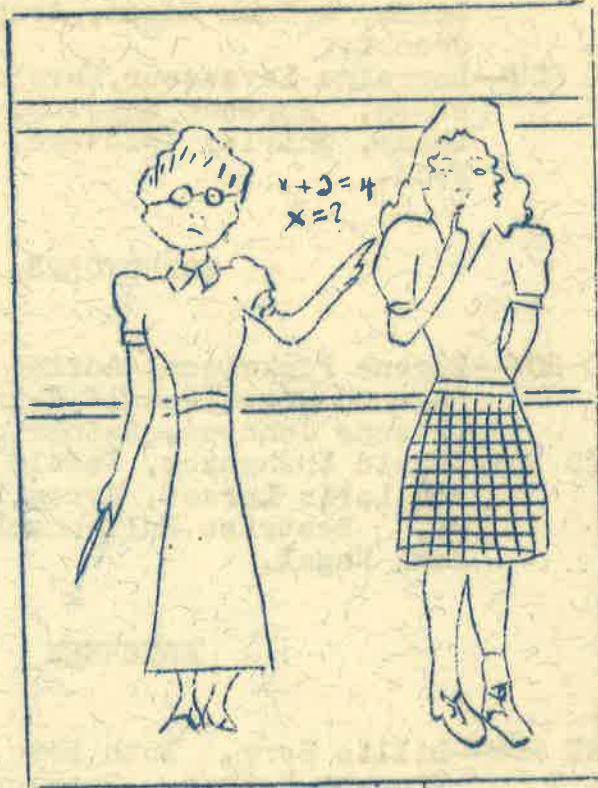

When Miss Fielding looks Jack over, she finds he is only unconscious. Just as he regains consciousness, Florence comes in with Sheriff Shaw, who is Edgar Meister. She tells the sheriff to arrest Mr. Howard as he is causing all the trouble. The sheriff, in his attempt to be brave, turns a trying moment into a comical one. Mr. Howard explains that it is not he who is causing all the trouble, but that it is a maniac who is out trying to murder him. Just then, the maniac runs outside from the back of the auditorium and Mr. Howard and the boys pursue and capture him.

The play ends happily. The sheriff has his prisoner, Florence and Carl are engaged, the mystery is solved, everybody is tired of excitement; and, as the curtain goes down, the actors leave to go home for a much-needed rest.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

Eighteen frosh began in the fall
Eleven girls, seven boys in all;
But amidst all of our debates,
We lost two of our classmates.

For our class officers we chose-
To help us along as on the year goes-
Pat, Dorothy, and Donis hoping that they Would help plan fun along the way.

Of our subjects we had no choice;
In other words, we had no voice,
We all do readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic;
And out of school, we get a big kick.

In worn clothing we were clad,
Every lass and every lad.
Lithesome Donis was chosen as queen;
King Vincent's garb--better days had seen.

In a program, we took part,
Amusing from the very start.
Climaxing this big day,
Was a party, complete in every way.

In the snowy month of January,
We had a sleigh ride party so merry.
After an hour or so,
To the school-house we did go.

Games were played and lunch was served;
Then homeward bound we were observed.
We hope our other years will be
As full of joy and as care-free.

Patricia Erckenbrack

FRESHMEN ONE-ACT PLAY

"Elmer" was the hilarious comedy that was chosen by the Freshmen for their One-Act play. Elmer, a fourteen year old boy that played the hero, was portrayed by Eugene Stern. Our heroine was Patricia Erckenbrack who played the part of Susan, the little sixteen-year old sister, who was picked on by her seventeen-year old twin sisters: Jeanie, Donis Osmundson and Janie, Dorothy Torgerson. Janie had a sissified frightened boy friend, Hubert Brown, which was played by Vincent Bolton. The old-fashioned seamstress, Miss Pinney, was played by Evangline Mullenback. The mother of the family, Mrs. Collins, was played by Shirley Boe. Other characters were: Russ James, friend of Hubert Brown, Donald Boe; Fannie Bell, the negro maid, Leone Kramer; and Pansy, the dog, Penny Glesne.

The play was a mystery comedy. Susan always had to wear the cast-off clothes of the twins. Then for her birthday, she got a fur evening coat from her father. Mrs. Collins was going to let Janie wear it, so Elmer hid the coat. The family thought burglars had stolen it, and one exciting thing after another happens.

We wish to thank our supervisor, Mrs. Stout, who helped very much with our play.

Donis Osmundson

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

I know you've read lots of history and such
But here's the Sophomore life with a poetic touch.

We all entered as Freshmen for our High School career

In 1940, oh! what a year!
There were thirty-six members in the class,
Twenty-three lads and thirteen were lass,
We knew we were there, for eight years we tried,
To a class like this, good luck couldn't be denied.

The first event was Initiation Day
Hobo lads and lass, in comic array.
In front of the assembly--The frosh class trots
And Ralph Otto and Jean Ross were considered tops.
We ate onions, and rolled coal with our nose,
For the photographer, the class together then posed.

The next thing, was the four-act-plays
Of which a five member cast worked for many days.

The title was "By Special Request"
The Freshmen by the judges were considered the best.

So much for that year and on we go
Our Sophomore year is next you know
We lost seven members and gained only one
But in our coming events, we know we'll have fun.

Well here're our accomplishments up until now,
And we'll come back as Juniors, if life will allow.

Lorraine Meyers

SOPHOMORE ONE-ACT PLAY

The Sophomores chose "The District Contest" as their contribution to the One-Act Plays to be given as a means of adding to the Athletic Fund.

The setting of the play was in the home of Dr. Henry Stevens. Dr. Stevens, the victim of the family argument, is portrayed by Carl Heinzerling. His wife, Mrs. Marie Stevens, is a laughable character, with her affected dress and manner and her extreme concern over her daughter's supposed talent. The comedy part was furnished by David Schneider, who acted the part of Reggie, a typical boy. The part of the egotistical daughter, Jean, is enacted by Maxine Peterson. Oh yes! We can't forget the Scandinavian maid, Hulda, played by Shirley Moews. She is an interesting character in this household.

The central theme of the play is Jean's preparation for a declamatory contest. Reggie's antics during the entire rehearsal of her reading are climaxed when he kills one of his mother's guppies. The play ends with the discovery, just before the contest, that Jean has the measles.

Carl Heinzerling.

THE JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Look backwards, Junior Class,
Look back to days of yore,
When in the fall of '39 we soared
To the portals of Adams High.

We looked about us far and wide
At things so strange and new,
Our guides and teachers all we saw,
Who would show us what to do.

We watched with envy and with pride,
The upperclassmen so dignified,
We "Freshmen," so puny and so small
Were promptly ordered about by all.

Our first year faded into the past,
And then the state boards came;
But altogether we saw it through,
We had not worked in vain.

Then we were proud and happy
To enter our next big year,
As having proved to the others
Our right to be "Sophomores" here.

Away we sped in our second year,
On wings of fleeting time;
Into the past went those old "state boards,"
Our thoughts on vacation supreme.

From old Adams High came a beckoning cry,
The doors opened broad and wide;
Into the hallways and classrooms we strode,
And now by the title of "Juniors" abide.

Our class marches on with quickened step
Forward to our ultimate goal,
Losing and gaining old and new members,
While our flag hangs high on its pole.

Next year, our big year of pomp and of dreams,
All to be fulfilled when next we draw nigh
Old Adams High School, Oh see how it beams,
With its arms outstretched and banner held high.

JUNIOR ONE ACT PLAY

"The Great Joanne," a one-act play presented by the Junior class of '42, was directed by Mr. Smith.

The play was a comedy, with Archie Hanson as Jerry Jones and Shirley Tolstead as Sally Young; two young "kids" in love. Lucy Burroughs (Marion Smith) gives a house party, inviting the actress, Joanne Cartwright (Lorraine Levasseur) and Susie Gardner (Elsie Wood) her country cousin as guests. Lucy's wealthy boy friend Thornton Miles-Gorman (Vernon Gosha) is thoroughly convinced that Joanne's coming to the party is all a "gag" just to get him there. Joanne sends a message saying that she will be delayed, which is misinterpreted, and things begin to happen. Ted Grant (Eob Hanson) Joanne's old flame discovers that Joanne still loves him, so all in all every thing comes to a happy ending. Janie (Wilma (Hardicoph) acts as maid for the house party.

Elsie Wood

Junior Class Play

The Junior Class presented their class play, "Anne of Green Gables," on Thursday evening, December 11th.

"Anne of Green Gables" is one of those beloved old novels that was transformed into a play.

The opening scene finds Nancy Spencer, (Hazel Bell), the personal representative of Marilla Cuthbert (Marion Smith), and her brother Matthew Cuthbert (Frederick Bolton) at the orphanage at Hopeton conversing with Florence Remsen (Wilma Hardecopf), the head of the orphanage, and Minnie Stearn (Florian Wagner), an attendant at the orphanage. Her errand was to see about adopting a boy for Marilla and Matthew, ends up by her mistake of asking for a girl.

Anne Shirley (Elsie Wood) is sent in place of the boy to the despair and anger of Marilla, but to somewhat of a feeling of pity and friendship on the part of Matthew.

Anne is the type who has an immense imagination that is always leading her into trouble.

There is nothing for Cuthberts to do but to allow her to remain, at least over night. But from the instant that Anne and Matthew meet, a strong feeling of friendship grows between them.

Anne's refreshing simplicity and vivid imagination touch Matthew's heart so he manages to persuade Marilla to let Anne remain for a few months.

During the course of her experiences, Anne meets the minister's wife, Mrs. Allan (Arlene Hagen); the town gossip Rachel Lynde (Dorothy Winkel); her bosom friend, Diana Barry (Lorraine Levasseur); her mother, Mrs. Barry (Carrie Jane Crichton); a giggly schoolgirl, Josie Pye (Shirley Tolstead), a schoolmate, Moody Spurgeon (Archie Hanson); and her spurned boyfriend, Gilbert Blythe, (Willard Anderson).

Anne's unforgiving hate of Gilbert Blythe is always causing her to say that she will commit suicide or some other dreadful thing.

During their friendship, Matthews and Anne form a joint account in a savings bank.

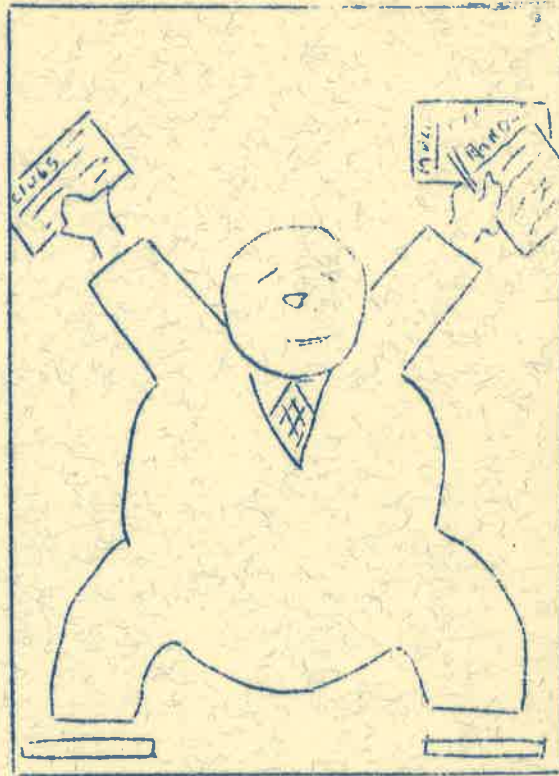

Upon word of the failure of this bank the neighbors around and about Green Gables are heart-broken, especially Matthew and Marilla. But Anne tells of her dislike of the bank president and of her act of transferring the money to a safer bank. Through this act Anne becomes a friend of Marilla.

The play is brought to a dramatic conclusion by the appearance of Marilla's long-lost boy-friend, Ira Mills (Vernon Gosha). Together they elope and are married. Anne forgives Gilbert and everyone is happy.

THE BAND

Good evening, Mr. and Miss Adams High student. This is your ace reporter bringing you up-to-date information on the 1941-'42 activities of that flashy snappy school organization--the Adams High Band.

Beginning the year we had forty members, but our number has somewhat increased by the addition of several new members.

SECOND ROW--Willard Anderson, John Schneider, Vernon Gosha, Fredrick Bolton.
FIRST ROW---Mrs. Stout, Raymond Hagen, Donald Krebsback, David Schneider, Loris Larson.

THE BOYS GLEE CLUB

The Boys Glee Club was organized in the fall of 1941 and is under the direction of Mrs. Stout. At the beginning of the year there were eleven boys in the Boy's Glee Club, but, after a few weeks of practice, four dropped out. Of the seven remaining, there are three tenors and four bases.

The Boys Glee Club gave several performances this year. They sang for the local and sub-district declamation contests, and at the band concert given in the fall. They also contributed to the entertainment at one of the P.T.A. programs.

John Schneider

THIRD ROW---Marion Smith, Shirley Nagel, John Schneider, Vernon Gosha, Jean Ross, Wilma Hardecopf, Lorraine Meyers.
 SECOND ROW---Bernice Mullenback, Leone Kramer, Natalie Erckenbrack, Florence Knutson, Fredrick Bolton, Hazel Bell, Evangeline Mullenback, Elsie Wood.
 FIRST ROW---Kathleen Karsburg, Catherine Keifer, Florence Gerber, Mrs. Stout, Shirley Tolstead, Luverne Johnson, Edyth Stern.

MIXED CHORUS

The Mixed Chorus was organized in the fall of 1941 and is under the capable direction of Mrs. Stout. We have twenty-two members. There are ten sopranos, six altos, and six baritone including tenor and bass.

Some of the songs we have learned this year are: "I am An American", "God Bless America," and several classical selections.

Bernice Mullenback

Lorraine Meyers, Wilma Hardecopf, Harold Mandler, Maxine Peterson, and Glen Peterson.

DECLAMATION

The following took part in the annual declamatory contest this year: Original Oratory, Lorraine Meyers and Dorothy Winkel; Learned Oratory, Wilma Hardecopf and Carl Heinzerling; and Interpretative Reading from a Manuscript, Harold Mandler and Shirley Bee. Those who took part in the Memorized Interpretative Reading were: Elsie Wood, Lorraine Levasseur, Ruth Berg, Lillie Berg, Jean Ross, Leone Krammer, Maxine Peterson, and Cordelia Whitney. The extemporaneous division had just one contestant, Glenn Peterson. Those who won first places were: Lorraine Meyers, Wilma Hardecopf, Harold Mandler, Maxine Peterson, and Glen Peterson. Lorraine Meyers won first place at the Sub-district contest and second place at the District Contest.

Edgar Meister, Glenn Peterson, Donald Bissen,
Donald Larson.

THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Future Farmer Chapter was reorganized on September 13, 1941 under the leadership of Mr. Smith, the Agriculture teacher. Roll call found 15 members and all in good standing.

The officers for the coming year who were elected are as follows: president, Edgar Meister; vice president Raphael King; secretary, Harold Mandler; treasurer, Robert Klapperick; reporter, Donald Larson; watchdog, Donald Johnson and advisor, Mr. Smith

The F.F.A. hold its regular meetings twice a month on the second and fourth Mondays.

FIELD DAY

The second annual Field Day was held on May 15, 1941. The school was divided into two sides, The Purple and The Gold. The all school captains for The Purple were Kermit Kiefer and Genevieve Barthelme, and, for the Gold, Byron Huseby and Marvel Madsen.

Individual class captains for The Purple were: seniors, Richard Nelson and Ruth Anderson; juniors, Carleton Johnson and June Otto; sophomores, Archie Hanson and Marian Smith; and freshmen, Donald Larson and Catherine Kiefer.

Individual class captains for The Gold were; seniors, Virgil Bergene and Mary Gerber; juniors, John Schnieder Natalie Erckenbrack; sophomores, Williard Anderson and Hazel Bell; freshmen, Byron Lewison and Jean Ross.

Many records were set and blue ribbons were given to winners. The awards were as follows: tennis, John Schneider; broad jump, Virgil Bergene; shot put, Carleton Johnson; football punting, Carleton Johnson; football passing, Paul Erie; pole vault, Edwin Schumacker; high jump, Eugene Boyum; 100 yard dash, Carleton Johnson; and cock fight, Eugene Knutson.

The girls were also awarded blue ribbons, namely: basketball throw, Hazel Bell; kittenball throw, Natalie Erckenbrack; 50 yard dash, June Otto; tennis, Shirley Nagel; standing broad jump, June Otto; and running broad jump, Beatrice Mullenback.

Kittenball games were also played by both the boys and girls. To finish up the day, the boys had a tugo'war in which The Purple were victorious.

The Purples were ahead until Miss Anderson saved the day when she turned in her score. That brought the final score to 401 points for The Gold and 401 points for The Purple. A picnic dinner and a good sunburn was had by all.

FOOTBALL

At the beginning of the football season, Coach Glesne was faced with the task of building a six-man football team out of a group of boys, all of whom were inexperienced in the six-man game.

Out of seven games, Adams won three and tied one. Rose Creek seemed to be the stumbling block this year. The October 31 game with the Creekers was the year's most sloppy and muddy football day. The rain was pouring down all through the game. The Adams line was lighter, and, as a result, was pushed around some. The October 4 game with St. Ansgar was the only night game. The score was a tie, being 6-6. The last game, our traditional November 11 game with LeRoy, was played on the LeRoy gridiron. The first half of the game was played with nine men, and the last half with six men; because LeRoy played eleven-man football.

The co-captains were Benjamin Winkels and Carleton Johnson. Those graduating this year are: Benjamin Winkels, Carleton Johnson, Gerald Krebsback, John Schneider, and Paul Erie.

The homecoming game was played on October 24, with Emmons. There were quite a few alumni there to support the players.

For their first year of this new kind of football, the squad did commendable work. Coach Glesne deserves a vote of praise in working the team up to the degree of success that they had. Next year, we hope that the experience of the team, added to their determination, will better our record.

BASKET BALL

Last November, only one regular and two others who were lettermen returned to take up the purple and gold. During the season, we found several underclassmen achieving recognition on the first team.

On December fifth, Coach Glesne and his team went to Hayfield for the opening game of the season. The first half was made very exciting by the fact that the lead kept hands. By the end of the game, however, the "Fielders" had run up 36 points to Adams' 30.

December ninth, we witnessed the first home game against Lyle, only to be defeated 28 to 40.

The next game was played at LeRoy. Our boys got off to a good start, but were forced to give up the lead in the second quarter. The ending score was 19 to 38 in favor of the opponents.

On December sixteenth, the Adams squad ventured to Rose Creek, to be overcome by a score of 36 to 13, after putting a stiff fight.

On January ninth, after a three week's vacation, the team motored to Spring Valley. The Adams squad played a hard fought game, holding the Valley team to 23 points, and scoring 19.

January sixteenth found Elkton coming here, to be defeated to the tune of 40-26. Our team took the offensive during the entire game.

The Adams squad visited Grand Meadow on January; twenty-third. Grand Meadow found Adams a stiff opponent, but were able to defeat us 31 to 46.

The next game on the list, in my opinion, was the most exciting one of the season. It was a dark outlook, with three "regulars" expelled, to be facing the strong Rose Creek squad. It was thrilling to find Adams holding the lead all the way, until the last quarter, when the opponents gained a one point lead, ending the game.

The next game was played with Ellendale, there on January thirtieth. It was a hard fought game, but our squad found a smooth team to compete with and lost to Ellendale. We hope there were no hard feelings between Coach G. Glesne of Ellendale and Coach M. Glesne of Adams.

February sixth marks the date of Adams over-powering the Spring Valley team by the score of 28 to 21 in a hard fought game.

The next game was played here with LeRoy on February tenth. After a hard close-played game, the Adams team was forced to yield to a score of 24 to 30.

Grand Meadow vs. Adams, here, was the next game on schedule. This game was another thriller. It was an unlucky Friday the thirteenth for our team. At the end, we were on the short end of the score, 41-43.

February seventeenth is the date Lyle was Adams' host. In a hard fought game Adams scored only 28 points to 38 for Lyle.

On February twentieth, Elkton was again our guest. Adams rolled up 56 points, while Elkton picked up only 33 points.

The Sub-district Tournament was held at LeRoy. The first night, Adams drew a bye.

The second night of the tournament, Adams tangled with Spring Valley. Both teams were out to seek a trip to the District Tournament at Albert Lea. That being an "off night" for Adams, Spring Valley emerged with a three point margin, 27-30.

The third night Adams played with LeRoy for Consolation honors. Our squad, however, was unable to outplay the LeRoy squad and were defeated 26-36.

Grand Meadow took the Sub-district title.

This year our team was unfortunate in winning only a few games, but when the game was over the opponents always knew that they had been in a basketball game.

SECOND TEAM

Even though our first team has had stiff competition this year, we can boast of the fine record of the Second Team.

Out of 15 games played, they bowed to opponents only twice.

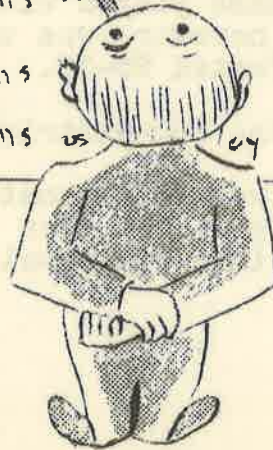

From this record we are looking forward to an outstanding basketball season next year.

JUNIOR-HIGH TEAM

The Junior High team was outstanding in getting to the finals in their tournament here at Adams. In so doing they defeated Elkton and Hayfield. They lost to the winner of the championship, LeRoy, by a score of 26-16.

PEP CLUB

Rah! Rah! Rah! Adams High School! This is the theme of the Adams Pep Club, which held its first meeting in September 1941. Officers were namely: Marion Smith, president; Lorraine Meyers, vice-president; Florian Wagner, secretary; and Luverne Johnson, treasurer. Every Wednesday at 1:45, we held our meeting in the home economics room.

The Pep Club's aim is to lead a cheering section which backs up the football and basketball boys at the games, especially the ones that are played in our home gymnasium. A bus has been taken several times this year in order to show our support at out of town games, also.

The income of the Pep Club is obtained from candy sold at home games.

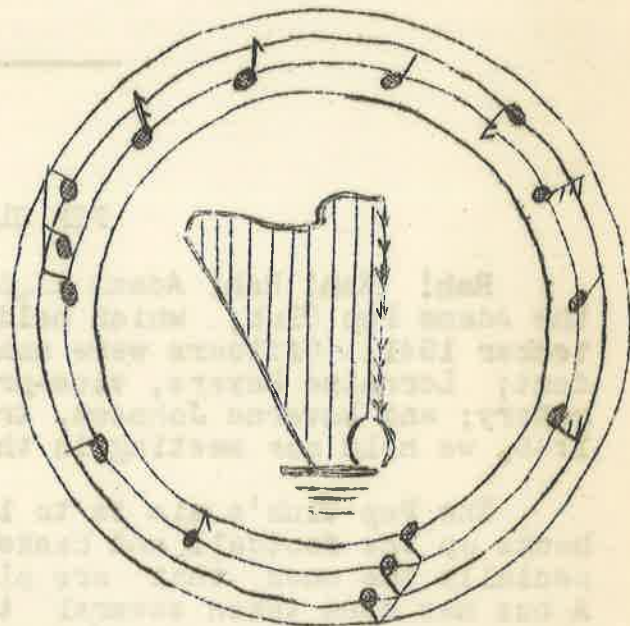

About the middle of the season we ordered pennants, which we wore to games. Some of the girls made purple beanies with gold pigtails.

Since the weather wasn't in our favor for a sleigh riding party, we are now looking forward to a weiner roast in the spring.

There were five cheer leaders representing Adams this year. They were as follows: Genevieve Barthelme, a Senior; Lorraine Levasseur, Florian Wagner, both Juniors; LeDonna Johnson, a Sophomore; and Dorothy Torgerson, a Freshman.

All of the cheer leaders, except the two Junior girls, had purple slacks and gold blouses. Lorraine and Florian had purple dresses with gold lined skirts. The cheerleaders worked up many new yells and had very good cooperation from the student group.

The Pep Club financed an American Song Bag Program, consisting of a violinist, pianist and singer. Scheurer, violinist in the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, and Williams, Harpist in the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, will entertain here in the spring. These programs are highly recommended for all persons, both young and old, by the University of Minnesota.

ATHLETIC BANQUET

The annual Athletic Banquet was held at the Sacred Heart Church Parlors on April 3. A large crowd attended, and a splendid program had been planned for the evening.

The Parlors were beautifully decorated with purple and gold streamers which are the Adams school colors. The girls who served wore aprons made of purple and gold crepe paper. The place cards, cut in the shape of a football helmet were attractively designed. Purple and gold streamers extended the length of the tables, and the centerpieces of beautiful flower bouquets completed the table decorations.

At 6:30 the banquet began. A delicious menu was served consisting of baked ham, scalloped potatoes, buttered peas, vegetable salad, celery, rolls, cherry pie, ice cream, and coffee. Following the dinner, Mr. John Wagner Jr., toastmaster, took over for the remainder of the evening's program.

Short talks were given by Mr. R. L. Bolton, Mayor of Adams; Mr. A. J. Karsburg, secretary of the Civic Association; Mr. B. J. Huseby, president of the School Board; Mr. Glesne, coach of Adams High School; Warren Plunkett, graduate of the University of Minnesota and a football star of the Golden Gophers; John Schneider, captain of the football team; and Carleton Johnson, captain of the basketball team. The honored guest of the evening was Mr. Dieg, coach at the College of St. Thomas at Minneapolis, who gave a very interesting speech.

Included in the program were musical selections given by the pupils of Adams High School. The Pep Band played during the earlier part of the evening, Dorothy Torgerson and Lorraine LeVasseur played a saxophone duet, accompanied by Shirley Tolstead on the piano. Vernon Gosha and Shirley Tolstead sang two duets, namely: "I'm Breathless" and "Marine Song." They were accompanied by Natalie Erckenbrack on the piano. At the close of the program, the High School Octette sang several pep songs.

CLASS PROPHECY

Today, January 20, 1949, is the day that John Schneider was innagurated as president. This evening he has asked the class of '42 to come to the White House.

The first one we meet as we come in is Paul Erie. "Gabby" is now coaching the famous basketball team at Adams. They won the state championship at Adams.

Who are the two girls that have just come in? No one else but those two nurses from St. Mary's Hospital at Rochester, Natalie Erckenbrack and Shirley Nagel. After talking to them, we find that they have assisted at some very serious cases.

Who is that man shaking hands, with the President? It is none other than the famous orchestra leader Robert Klapp-erich, "King of the Sax." He and his "Swaying Swingsters" are now playing a weeks engagement at the Stork Club.

Also present tonight is the Ambassador to Great Brit-ian, Robert Barthelme. He is surrounded by photographers, and his picture will appear in all the papers tomorrow morning.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson are being received by the President. Mrs. Nelson is the former Florence Knutson. Before her marriage she was Shirley Temple's private teacher. Billy is now in partnership with his father in the Creamery at Wadena.

Who's that drawing all the attention of the girls? They seem to be attracted by his red hair and his uniform. Urban says, by the year 2400, he ought to be a corporal in the U.S. Army.

We've just been talking to Delores Ewald of the Adams Business Colloge, who is teaching the younger generation the fundamentals of Shorthand and Typing.

The man now speaking to the first lady is Carleton Johnson, Minnesota football player who has just been elect-ed the All-American.

Also present here is Ardis Larson, who is a lynotype operator on the "Toapi Gazette." As we understand Taopi has grown to be quite a town.

Marjorie Duggan is now an air-plane stewardess, on an airplane, which flies between Laramie and Adams. On her trip to Washington, she enjoyed chatting with the pilot Andrew Smith.

Hormel's private secretary is Kathleen Karsburg. She says business is better than ever. Even though the Armistice has been signed, the boys in the army and navy are still eating plenty.

Gerald Krebsback is doubling for Arthur Murray in "The Steps of the Year". Being around the movie stars helps to keep your eyes open, doesn't it Jerry?

The Warner Brothers are now having a big increase in the demand for movies. Genevieve Barthelme, their latest find is always signing peoples autograph books these days.

Herbie Scheafer is the manager of a "hock-shop" in New York City. He says he has quite a collection of used tires.

A man who has been doing plenty in helping to keep the Japs from revolting in this country is Edgar Meister. We've even noticed a slight Japanese accent in his speech tonight.

Rapheal King is now a prosperous farmer at Rattlesnake Gulch. This is quite a town from what Rapheal says.

The famous author, Glenn Peterson, who has just completed "Stardom," which will soon be put into a movie, is here. He told us that most of the credit should be given to his secretary, Ardelle Anderson, who has been assisting him in his work.

Benjamin Winkels and Gerald Landherr are working on the ranch of Hedy Lamar. They seem to be enjoying their work very much, or is it the work that they are all smiles about.

We have all enjoyed a very pleasant evening, and we wish John all the success in the world, in his new carrer .

Kathleen Karsburg and Genevieve Barthelme.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class, being of questionable mind and doubtful intellect, without malice toward anyone, but with no feeling of generosity, do ordain and establish this document to be our last will and testament of our high school days.

To Mr. Sorknes, we bequeath all our long themes and expect that he will burn much "midnight oil" in reading them. We also will all our Observers and notes we took in class which have become worn out from such hard usage.

To Mr. Glesne, we bequeath our unexcused absences and hope they can think up better reasons next year.

To Miss Homan, we bequeath a new mimeograph machine with automatic devices for such things as drop sheets and removing ink spots.

To Mrs. Stout, we bequeath our knowledge of English literature and grammar.

To Joe Adams, we bequeath a new mowing machine. We thought you'd like one with a little less noise, Joe!

To Mr. Stegeman, we will all the extra copies of the "Hut-Sut Song!" We know it's your favorite song.

To Mr. Smith, we bequeath a book on "Child Care," providing he doesn't wear it out.

To Mrs. Gronfor, we will much success and happiness in her married life.

To Miss Christiansen, we will a pair of stilts so she can see what's going on in the back of the assembly.

To Miss Toft, we will our good behavior and conduct during our school days.

To Miss Bhend, we will our "gift of gab" so she can make nice long speeches to her classes.

To Miss Neilson, we will all of our dramatic ability.

To Miss Paulson, we will our self importance and dignity.

Individually we bequeath the following:

Florence Knutson wills her limpid brown eyes to Hazel Bell. They seem to bring good results, eh Florence!

Gerald Landherr wills his "specs" to Shirley Tolstead for better vision the day after the night before.

William Nelson wills his "foreign jallopy" to Frederick Bolton for the beautiful summer evenings that are soon to come.

Ardelle Anderson wills her "shyness" to Elsie Wood.

John Schneider wills his "Urban Odson" figure to Florian Wagner. Maybe you can play football next year?

Kathleen Karsburg wills her long tedious hours of band practice to Wilma Hardecoph.

Andrew Smith wills his "sweet smile" to Dorothy Winkel. He hates to give it away but thought you could make better use of it.

Genevieve Barthleme wills her "cute dimples" to Donald Bisson.

Carleton Johnson wills his future plans to Lorraine Levasseur. Hope they work out, Shorty?

Paul Erie wills his speedy walk to Carrie Jane Crichton.

Robert Barthleme wills his dark hair and complexion to Maurice Severson. You know "variety is the spice of life," Sever.

Natalie Erckenbrack wills her "Corny jokes" to Archie. Hope you get more laughs Archie.

Urban Heimer wills his mannish voice to Harold Mandler. It might quit changing some day Harry!

Gerald Krebsback wills his love for dancing to Arlene Hagen.

Robert Klapperick wills his talent to getting along with the girls to Bob Hanson.

Marjorie Duggan wills her "Big Ben" to Wilfred Thome, providing he takes good care of it.

Shirley Nagel wills her Englishman's way of catching on to jokes to Williard Anderson.

Ardis Larson wills her ability to talk to George Ulrick.

Benjamin Winkels wills his "giggles" to Marion Smith. We thought you would need it Smitty!

Edgar Meister wills his singing ability to Vernon Gosha. You need it Vernon!

Delores Ewald wills her math ability to Bob Hanson for further use.

Herbert Schaefer wills his cute little size to Donald Bissen.

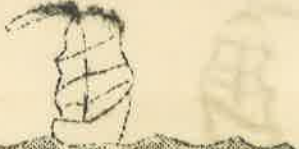

Raphael King wills his jolly nature to Nordeen Snortum.

Glen Peterson wills his love of reading books to Shirley Tolstead.

The Senior Class of '42

1st. and 2nd. Grade

3rd. and 4th Grade

5th and 6th Grade

7th and 8th Grade

Grades 1 and 2

The school year started out with twenty peppy little girls and boys in the first and second grades. School was their main interest and they like being busy.

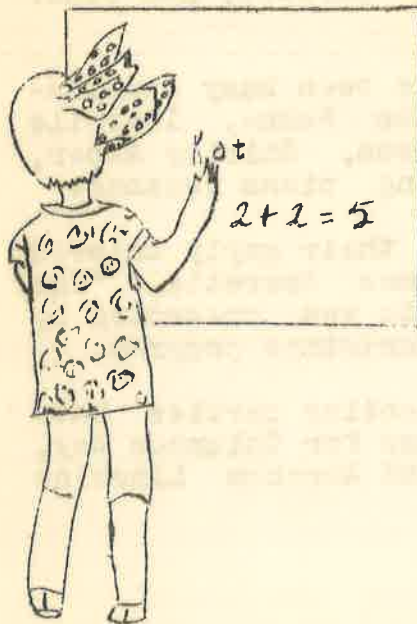

The first grade started to read from the new Story Book and Picture Book, about Mac and Muff. They completed nine pre-primers during the first part of the year.

Social studies held the greater interest and we studied about the Indians, Pilgrims, Eskimos, our Helpers the Early People, and the Dutch.

Parties were enjoyed for Halloween, Christmas, Valentines Day, Easter, and for many birthdays.

Our room organized a Rhythm Band and we learned to play many pieces during the year.

Our room partook in a Christmas operetta, "The Magic Christmas Bell." We enjoyed the songs and thought it was fun to be dolls, Christmas trees, jack-in-the boxes etc.

We contributed our help to Uncle Sam by buying defense stamps. We were proud of our books and the stamps we had in them.

We had a reading chart which showed the number of library books we read during the year. Elnathan Anderson read the most books in our room.

We had other charts for Clean Fingernails, Clean Teeth etc. We all tried hard to get a star each day on these.

The second grade had an airport for a spelling chart. If they received 100 their planes could fly.

Grades 3 and 4

The call of the school bell on the morning of September 3rd brought twenty-eight happy, third and fourth graders back to the Adams School after a pleasant summer vacation. Very shortly everyone was busy planning the work and play for the coming year.

New geographies and histories were passed out to the fourth grade. While the fourth grade were busy becoming acquainted with their new studies and review, the third grade were becoming acquainted with their new books and room.

Since the beginning of the year, we welcomed the following pupils to our room; Eugene and Russell Triplett, Robert Krumm, Billy Hanson, and Janet Stern. We are sorry that nine pupils have moved away. They are Lawrence Berg, Robert Weber, Eugene and Russell Triplett, Elaine and Richard Jensen, Don Nelson, Arthur Johnson, and Kermit Iverson.

The third and fourth grade organized a club, "The Little Citizen's Club." Their aim was to learn how to conduct and carry on a club. Officers and committees were elected to plan the programs, parties, and other activities.

Fingers of six of the girls have been busy exercising on the piano key board. Maureen Rebne, Isabelle Hukee, Darlene Lewison, Marion Nelson, Shirley Asper, and Dorothy Sorknes, have been taking piano lessons.

All of the pupils, dressed in their gayly colored costumes, took part in the Christmas operatta, "The Magic Christmas Bell." This operatta was presented by the lower six grades at the annual Christmas program.

Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine parties have been enjoyed during the year. Programs for Columbus day, Thanksgiving, George Washington's and Abraham Lincolns birthday, were shared by the group.

Grades 5 and 6

September third brought the fifth graders to an upstairs room for the first time, and sixth graders hurried back to claim the places they had chosen in the spring. Another year of work and play had begun.

Since school started in September, Sidney Berg, Jean Weber, Dorothy Bonallie, Sylvester Jensen, and Ruby Walker have gone to other schools. Phebe Viste attended school here for the first time, and during the year, James Bergene, Ruth Stern, Beverly Ehlo, and Hazel Fletchall joined the ranks.

Everyone took part in the operetta, "The Magic Christmas Bell" which was presented in the gymnasium the week before Christmas. Lloyd Osmundson was Santa Claus and Joyce Boyum his helper. Others were Chinamen, Balloons, Cowboys Scotch lassies, Indians, and Swedish boys and girls. A Lincoln program was presented to the third and fourth grades on February twelfth. The girls, with the upper grade girls sang patriotic songs at the February P.T.A.

Parties were enjoyed on Halloween, Christmas, and Valentines Day. Other short parties were given for people who moved away.

Owen Anderson, Dennis Uglum, Roger Beck, Robert Freid, Joyce Boyum, Ruth Larson, Harold Wiste, and James Bergene take instrumental lessons, from Mr. Stegemann. Harold Joyce, Roger, Robert, Ruth, and James are already members of the band. Mary Jane Finbraaten, Dorothy Knutson, Joyce Boyum, Donniss Hukke, and Hazel Fletchall take piano lessons and Phebe Viste takes guitar lessons.

Football and basketball have kept the boys very busy. Much interest was aroused over the basketball games between the fourth and fifth, and fifth and sixth grade boys. Harold Osmundson dressed for football and accompanied, both the football and basketball teams on trips.

Fifth and sixth graders sold more Red Cross Christmas seals than any other room, almost fifteen dollars worth.

Grades 7 and 8

Thirty--nine eager and enthusiastic seventh and eighth grade pupils arrived promptly on the morning of September 2, to begin the 1941 - 1942 school year.

Regular school work began immediately with a review of the previous year's subject matter. As the year advanced much new material was presented and studied in all subject fields. On Friday of each week, the Social Studies classes gave reports and held discussions on the present day events. The Junior Review was used as a basis for the study.

Interesting book reports were given throughout the year. Some fine illustrations were made of the literature read. Other art work included free hand cuttings, pencil drawings, soft crayon chalk drawings and the making of friezes.

The pupils presented the "Little Shepherd Who Was Left Behind" at the Christmas program for the P. T. A. Bernard Hukee took the part of the Shepherd Boy.

The girls together with the fifth and sixth grade girls sang two numbers, "We Are All Americans" and "I Am An American" at the Auxiliary and Legion Program.

The seventh and eighth grade boys participated in the Junior High basketball tournament which was held February 28, at Adams.

The girls, with Miss Christensen as instructor, had home economics three hours each week. With Mr. Smith as teacher, the boys had Industrial Education three hours each week.

A contest for selling the most tickets for the Junior Class Play, "Anne of Green Gables", was won by Romona Anderson and John Wood. The pupils are to be commended for their efforts.

To vary the work of the year the pupils enjoyed a party on October 31, the Friday before the Christmas Holidays and St. Valentine's Day.

EAT MORE BUTTER

Since the beginning of civilization prosperity has been inseparably linked with dairying and so today a thriving dairy industry means a financially progressive community. Business interests are directly affected by the buying power of the farmer.

By using more butter we are helping the farmer and helping ourselves.
